

BORO DOCTORS AND DRUGGISTS DANCE

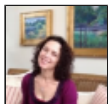

The doctors and druggists of Brooklyn danced last night at various Manhattan and Brooklyn hotels. More than 400 attended the Retail Drug Association's sixth annual banquet and dance at the Hotel St. George. They were entertained by professional singers and dancers who were procured by Dr. Paul Mendelsohn, chairman of entertainment. Meyer Sambur was toastmaster.

Greenpoint Druggists Dance.

The second annual dinner and dance of the Greenpoint Pharmaceutical Association attracted more than 250 members and friends to the Hotel Astor, Manhattan, last night. State Senator Jeremiah F. Twomey was toastmaster and introduced the following speakers: Supreme Court Justice John MacCrate, Assistant District Attorney James I. Cuff and Nicholas Gessoalde, president of the association. A. Reynolds, vice president, was chairman of the arrangements committee.
